"Be the change that you wish to see in the world" - Mahatma Gandhi.

Lgr
Most of us wishes to live in a better world but none of us wants to ~~do~~ change it. Can we be the change that we ~~wants~~ want to see?

I totally agree with the following quotation. Personally, I think only kind, responsible and faithful people can make the world a better place. For example, you can't warm somebody if you are cold-hearted. The main reason to support my opinion is that liars and hypocrites could never save us. They don't care about anybody and probably about themselves. Also people who never were kind can't teach us kindness.

For example the main <sup>character</sup> ~~hero~~ from "Hero of our ~~centy~~ century" novel by Mikhail Lermontov. Pechorin (main character) always lied, cheated and even murdered his ~~his~~ old friend. He ruined lots of lives. Pechorin has never experienced true love because he cannot comprehend it. Pechorin could never make the world better because he ~~does~~ doesn't want to be better.

gr
"If you want to change world, start with yourself" - old russian proverb that accurately shows my opinion. Although liars can't make world better, I think they can redempt (if they want).

"Be the change that you wish to see in the world" - ~~this~~ is not just a quotation, but something really important for every of ~~us~~ and our world!

AS for me, I think that it is so true.

First of all, we should start changing our behavior if we want to make the world a better place. As an example I would like to tell a story about ~~a little~~ a little boy. He liked attention and when people talk only about him. As the time passed he started to notice that his friends do not want to hang out with him anymore. It was difficult for him to ~~realise~~ <sup>realise</sup> that he was the problem. He only ~~talked~~ ~~about~~ about himself and did not care about ~~any~~ <sup>any</sup> one else. After he changed ~~his~~ himself his ~~stare~~ friends <sup>was</sup> with him again.

Second of all, we can't make people care or do something <sup>harm</sup> but we can do it all by ourselves. For example me, I really take care of our planet. Try not to ~~use~~ use plastic and clean up the ~~space~~ <sup>garden</sup> ~~that is~~ around my home. I am so glad that not everyone wants to do the same. Some people just do not care! I can ~~not~~ change them but maybe one day they would like to join me? ~~anyways~~ I should do my

+ Therefore, I will do my best to show them ~~that~~ that it is so important.
212

Everyone should first start with themselves. If ~~every person~~ only one person would do something good for the world. It's already a great ~~chance~~ chance to make the world better.

Nowadays modern people are trying to help the environment. In this case, people are making attempts to be a change that can influence the world.

In my opinion, it is possible to be the change and make the world better by your own ways. For example, if you are struggling seeing abandoned animal on the street you can help it to find a new home. As a consequence, there will be one less pet left without its cozy home. Moreover, you can help old people by leading them to cross the road or carrying their heavy bags. These things might seem useless but it is a big step forward to make the world better.

The main character Benjamin Driskoll from a story "Green morning" is a good example of the following quotation. The author Ray Bradberry ~~explain~~ writes that people are moving from Earth to planet Mars. However, Mars is provided with lack of oxygen. Benjamin was convinced by himself that Mars need trees. He was planting trees for 30 days and after the downpour he finally saw various types of trees around him. Benjamin is the change of the world. He wanted to see Mars with trees, to feel a fresh air and he ~~could to it. did it.~~

In conclusion, I strongly believe that being a change is possible. It requires a lot of determination and ~~see~~ courage.

Mahatma Gandhi once said "Be the change that you wish to see in the world." How can we understand this quotation? Let's discuss it.

I believe that Mahatma Gandhi meant that if you want to see the change in the world you can be this change, the person who do something to make the world better. If a person wants to make the world better he should do something, not only think about this change, but make decisions. However, sometimes people think that they can be this change but in reality they are not.

I know the story about a girl who wanted to make her school better. She organize the school's club, where students different ideas how they can make their school better. The girl became a president of the school and made her school better.

Another example is a man, who thought that he can make his company better. He always told his colleagues that he can make ~~his~~ the company better. Of course, nobody believed him as he never did good things.

To sum up, I think that Mahatma Gandhi's quotation means a lot, that if you want to see the change in the world you should do something. However, not all people can be this change.
